DETAILED ACTION

Claims 13, 15-19 and 22 are pending and have been examined.

Terminal Disclaimer

1. The terminal disclaimer filed on 04 January 2007 disclaiming the terminal portion of any patent granted on this application which would extend beyond the expiration date of 6,687,901 has been reviewed and is accepted. The terminal disclaimer has been recorded.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S.

patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

3. Claims 13, 15-16, 18-19 and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a,b,e) as being anticipated by Hansson (USPN 6,023,620).

Claim 13

Hansson disclosed a software device comprising:

a memory storing a control-software being downloaded by said radio terminal device (figure 1, element 100); and a communication unit (figure 1, element 120) notifies said radio device of a number of divided blocks (column 3, lines 5-9) for transmitting of said stored software and transmits said divided blocks to the radio terminal device (column 2, lines 41-56; column 3, line 1).

Claim 15

Hansson disclosed a radio terminal comprising:

a memory storing a control-software presently involved in operations (figure 1); and a controller inhibiting communications with said software-supply device for updating said control-software based on a power condition of said radio terminal device (figure 1, element 140, cannot communicate when off).

Claim 16

Hansson disclosed a radio terminal comprising:

a memory storing a control-software presently involved in operations (figure 1); and a controller inhibiting communications with said software-supply device when said radio terminal is communicating with another device (column 2, lines 50-51; figure 2, elements 250-320, no other communicating present).

Claim 18

Hansson disclosed a radio terminal comprising:

a memory storing a control-software presently involved in operations (figure 1); and a controller making a request to said software-supply device at least N times for receiving a plurality of divided control-software blocks via a radio communication line for updating said stored control-software (figure 2, element 210, N=1).

Claim 19

Hansson disclosed a radio terminal comprising:

a memory storing a control-software presently involved in operations (figure 1); and a receiving unit receiving information from said software-supply device concerning a number of divided control-software blocks for updating said stored control-software, before starting a download of said number of divided control-software blocks (figure 2, elements 200-240).

Claim 22

The limitations of claim 22 correspond to the limitations of claim 13 and as such are rejected in a corresponding manner.

4. Claims 16 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Peng (USPN 6,954,754).

Claim 17

Peng disclosed a radio terminal comprising:

a radio communication unit communicating with a software-supply device (column 4, line 54 to column 5, line 13; column 5, lines 60-65);

a memory storing a software presently involved in operations (column 4, line 54 to column 5, line 13; column 5, lines 60-65); and a controller stopping a download of software from said software-supply device when the controller detects an operation for responding to an incoming call (column 8, lines 53-65).

Claim 16

The limitations of claim 16 correspond to the limitations of claim 17 and as such are rejected in a corresponding manner.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed 04 January 2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues Hansson does not disclose notification of a number of blocks, this is shown (column 3, lines 5-9).

Applicant argues Hansson does not disclose a controller operates to inhibit communication based on a power condition. It is maintained that the controller operates to inhibit or not inhibit "based" on whether the power condition of on/off, under the broadest reasonable interpretation. Claims 16 and 17 are addressed through new rejection using Peng. Again under the broadest reasonable interpretation, "information ... concerning a number of ... blocks" reads upon the option to update found in Peng.
